8.2.1. Employment Practice Living Wage

Aligning MIU's Vision with Egypt's SDG 8 Ambitions

In alignment with these national reforms, Misr International University (MIU) ensures that all staff and faculty are paid at least the living wage. This commitment supports inclusive economic growth by promoting fair compensation practices and reducing income disparities. The living wage is defined as the local living wage (if determined by the government) or the local financial poverty indicator for a family of four, expressed as an hourly wage.

National Minimum Wage

Egypt raised the minimum wage for the private sector to EGP 3,500, effective January 1, 2024.

MIU fully supports this progressive direction by maintaining equitable wage policies and promoting fair and inclusive employment practices across the institution.
